Transparent and intuitive cloud-based system that empowers managers to make informed, accurate, and data-driven merit and bonus recommendations.

The annual Merit and Bonus cycle is a significant investment of both time and money for most organizations. Properly motivating and rewarding great performance can be an elusive target for managers. As the most intuitive HR Compensation management software on the market, SimplyMerit provides transparency, insight, governance, guidance, and collaboration throughout our clients' Merit and Bonus cycles.

Our cloud-based solution empowers your managers to make informed compensation decisions, engages your senior leadership with visibility and transparency throughout the merit and bonus processes, and enables HR to move from behind spreadsheets and out to the front lines with their management teams.

“SimplyMerit is a proven technology solution critical to any size business focused on optimizing your remuneration and people investments.” – Guy Fusco; Former Vice President, Human Resources – Global Functions; Baxter International, Inc.

We help you develop focus, define purpose, and acquire and apply (re)discovered skills and knowledge to be successful in achieving your life's goals.

Auxin Group is a self-directed, professionally guided Career (Re)engagement Development Program.

Based on survey results from top HR leaders each year, we identify the critical skills, behavioral competencies, and relevant work experiences needed to build commitment, reinforce engagement, and increase performance.

This information is the foundation for our six-phase program that prepares associates for their anticipated (re)entry to the “all-in” workforce. Ongoing participation is controlled and measured.

Our program includes career coaching, advanced skill development, and client service delivery within a teambased, collaborative project work environment.

Growth is our focus and engagement is our strength. By combining our leadership expertise, innovative spirit, and well-rounded project management competency, we ensure delivery of our clients' initiatives.

We give you on-demand resources to help you save time and money without the risk.
