Challenges

Payroll can often take several cumbersome hours, from collecting time cards, to deciphering handwriting, to manually entering the time into your accounting or payroll software. What once took hours could be shortened to 15 minutes, by using an accurate time tracker that syncs employee times directly into your accounting or payroll software. It can now become a fast, accurate, and easy payroll process.

"I'm loving the different features QuickBooks Time has—especially when you clock in and out. We've been having problems with employees going over hours and it's great that they are able to keep track of how many hours they have worked in a week right in the app."
