Empower your workforce with the ability to capture time and expenses accurately, even when they are mobile

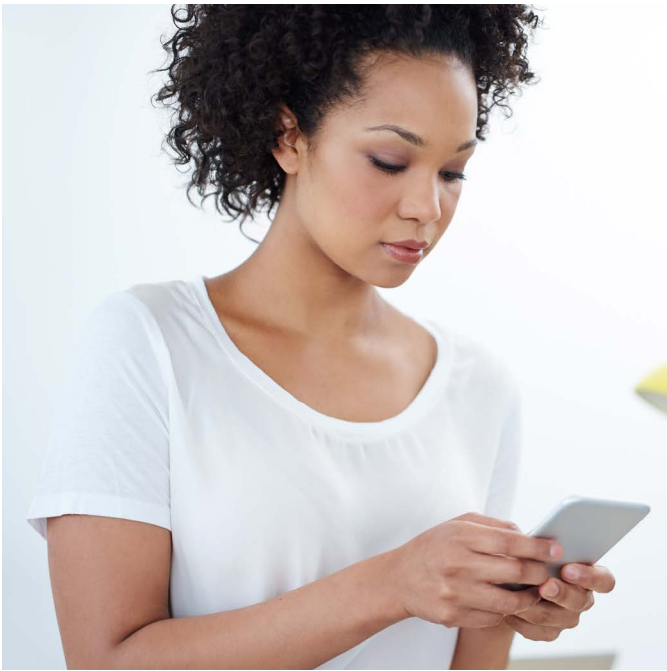

“ Replicon’s mobile application is a huge benefit for us—everybody has provided positive feedback about how easy it is to capture and approve time and expenses while on the move. ”

Nicolas Dormont

VP of Information Systems, abas

Replicon’s mobile application, combined with our workforce management, project tracking and billing, and expense solutions enables organizations to manage their employees in real-time.

“ Our people in the field building towers are never at their desks, but work off tablets and phones. Replicon makes it easy for them to enter time from any device. ”

Ankur Dharmani, Architecture and Infrastructure Manager, 2degrees

Track Employee Time and Expenses from Anywhere, Anytime

Replicon's mobile application allows end users to enter their time and expenses at anytime, anywhere in a matter of seconds and this data is automatically synced with the cloud. Supervisors get notified in real-time and can review the information as per their convenience, greatly increasing accuracy and reducing administrative effort.

Slick Interface

Replicon's mobile application is simple to install and use. It is available on iOS and Android devices and makes it easy to connect to your corporate Replicon account for tracking time and expenses immediately, without the need for any training, thanks to its intuitive user interface.

Instant Sync

The mobile app works in tandem with your Replicon solution and automatically syncs all information for further processing. The app also has an offline mode that makes sure no information is lost even when there is no network coverage.

GPS tracking

Businesses can easily track their employees' location when they make specific time entries and use this information for applying business rules or provide justification to customers, when needed.

No More Lost Receipts

Users can create and submit expense sheet capture snapshots of bills to be attached and tag them along with expense entries even when they are not in the office.

Simplified Approvals

Supervisors get notified about any pending time and expense sheets. They can quickly review and approve or reject these entries directly from the app eliminating delays.

Real-time Schedules

Managers can create shift plans using Replicon's time & attendance application's scheduling capabilities and push the information to employees instantly who can access it on their mobile device.

Time Off Tracking

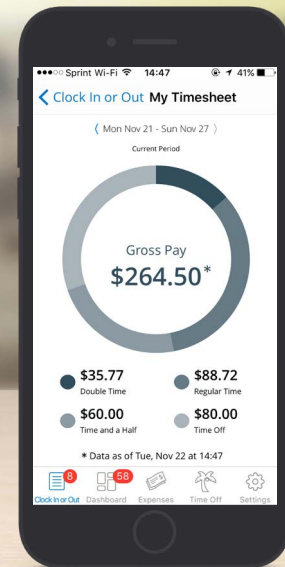

Replicon enables your employees to quickly book time off from their mobile. They can easily look at previous bookings, balances or company holidays.
