ProjectTime

No More Manual Time Tracking with AI-powered ZeroTime™

Manage your project costs, schedules and resources better and maximize project profits

> " We now have visibility on who is working on which projects, and we can make sure everyone is properly resourced. We weren't able to report on all of that before Replicon. "

Replicon ProjectTime enhances your ability to deliver projects on time, within budget and helps manage employee productivity and project margins.

Simplify Your Project Delivery and Improve Resource Productivity

Replicon transforms your approach to project costing and management and helps you account for all costs and time. Real-time visibility into project progress, costs, resource allocations and availability enables businesses to manage delivery and plan for future work with ease.

AI-powered Time Tracking With ZeroTime

Liberate your employees from manual time tracking. Let ZeroTime do the heavy-lifting by capturing time spent on all the work apps your employees use to create a ready-to-review timesheet. Ensure accurate employee time data for error-free project costing.

Robust Project Tracking

Manage project and task hierarchies and define budgets and timelines to meet your business needs. Roll-up related projects into programs to track macro-level metrics. Easily drill down into project/program performance and manage delivery.

Enhanced Configurability

Model the solution to your requirements and meet your organization needs for superior scalability across the business. Organize your project resources for better security, access, and visibility into your company's critical information. Restrict administrators from viewing or editing users outside of their project groups.

Manage Internal Chargebacks

Set up resource costs and estimates for projects and track project spend in real time. Normalize the time spent by resources on projects. Account for all resource time and costs and charge back accurately.

Plan for Future Demand

Use historical cost and time information to predict future project metrics. Account for future resource requirements based on the pipeline and plan for hiring, staffing or contracting to meet the demand.
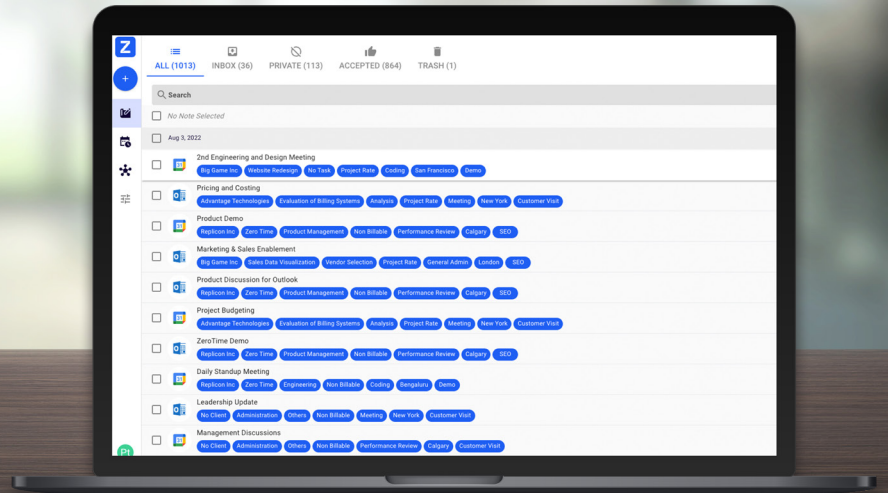

Real-time Reporting

Project managers, resource managers, finance and other teams involved in the process can get complete real-time visibility into progress, productivity and profitability metrics to make proactive decisions.

Seamless Integrations

Replicon fits right into your ecosystem. Effortlessly transfer data from/to any CRM, Accounting, ERP or even proprietary systems.

❝ With Replicon, we have improved insight into project profitability and timelines. Our managers know they're collecting and reporting on information correctly, and have peace of mind that the data in their reports is accurate. ❞

Replicon offers to you the flexibility to configure the product to meet your needs.

Automatically Collect Time Data From 100+ Work Apps

ZeroTime, Replicon's AI-powered time tracking technology, is designed to automatically collect time spent on various work applications that your employees use. ZeroTime collects data from 100+ collaboration and productivity tools such as Microsoft Apps, Calendars, GitHub and more that employees use in the hybrid digital workplace.

Why Choose ZeroTime?

Accuracy
ZeroTime acts as an intelligent layer between employees and their existing work apps and collaboration tools to automate the time capture process, liberating employees from filing traditional timesheets
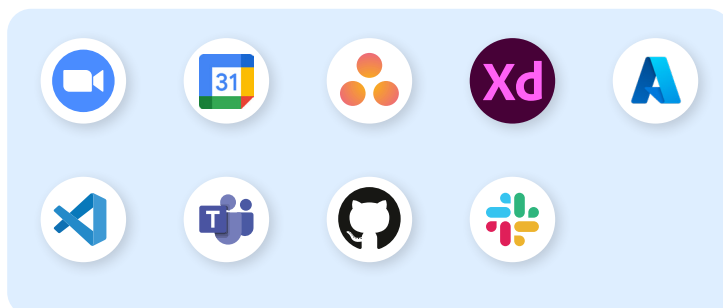

Productivity
ZeroTime automatically creates timesheets for your employees for their validation and review, by which it frees up their time to focus on things that matter.

Security
ZeroTime is a privacy-first platform. Only bots and the employees have access to the data and no-one else. Users can always decide what data they want to share, and have 100% ability to delete the data that they don't want others to see.

Seamlessly Collect Time Data From:
