WITHOUT TECHNOLOGY, ONBOARDING IS A MONEY SINKHOLE

Administrative Burden

Internal staff spend too much time entering data, verifying accuracy, determining onboarding requirements, and tracking onboarding status.

- Filing paperwork
- Creating reports

A Small Army

When onboarding tasks take so long, the only way to scale is to add more internal staff. While people are a company's greatest asset, they are also their highest cost.

Costly Mistakes

Humans are notoriously error prone. In fact, studies show for every 100 manual tasks, a person makes 10 to 30 mistakes. The downstream effect is costly.
