A commitment to employee well-being

Epique Realty has maintained a competitive edge in a hyper-competitive industry by always putting its people, and their families, above all else. In 2024, Epique identified that there was a gap in their family benefits strategy -- pets. Epique knew they needed a partner that acknowledged and supported the essential role pets play in their agents' lives and well-being and could offer a solution to support all of the pet families in their organization.

Record growth in three months

Offering Airvet as a fully sponsored broker benefit was crucial for Epique Realty to differentiate itself and provide a valuable, equitable service to their team. Within the first week, 15% of agents had accessed Airvet, highlighting the demand for this benefit. Since its launch, Airvet has significantly boosted agent engagement and satisfaction, underscoring Epique's commitment to meaningful support for their team.

“Airvet was great and answered promptly at 3:30am!

I'm impressed with Airvet and would 10/10 recommend!
