

Inside Pet Family Benefits

How Pet Telehealth compares to Pet Insurance

Often recognized as “Teladoc®” for pet families, Airvet is one of the industry’s most popular new benefits, helping employers recognize and support the majority of their workforce who are pet families to get easier, more affordable access to veterinary care.

While pet insurance is another popular benefit for pet families, the two solutions differ in many ways.

	Pet Telehealth 	Pet Insurance
Use and Purpose	Virtual point of care for routine, intermediate, preventative, and behavioral veterinary care.	Financial coverage when utilizing in-person veterinary services.
Human Comparison	Teladoc® for pets	Health insurance
Cost	Employer Sponsored (no cost to employees)	Employees pay: ~$800/year/pet (Dog) ~$330/year/pet (Cat)
Support For All Pets and Species	Yes	Most policies restricted to just cats and dogs
Can All Employees Enroll?	Yes. A single membership covers all pets in the household.	Employees with young and healthy cats and dogs, yes. *Older pets, pets with pre-existing conditions, and exotic pets may not be eligible.
Are There Exclusions?	All ages, breeds, and conditions (even pre-existing) are covered. No exclusions.	Exclusions for pre-existing conditions and other exclusions.